ABRAHAM BLYTHE, Assignee, vs. DAN far from his residence in the lower part of Greenville. This was to wards the close of the last cen

Twenty years ago a commission was sent from Mobile, to ex amine a great number of witnesses living in Abbeville, Anderson,

Pickens and Greenville. A suit had been brought in the court at Mo bile, involving a very large prop erty—several hundred thousand dol lars—and moreover, the legitimacy of one of the first families of the city. Judge Campbell, of the Su preme Court of the United States, then at the bar, was counsel for one of the parties, and Col. Phil lips, formerly of South Carolina, and afterwards the partner of Sec retary Stanton, in Washington City, was of counsel for the other party.

Many other lawyers were likewise employed in the case. A woman by the name of Cynthia Presley, the illegitimate daughter of Dr.

Kennedy, who was prosecuted for the murder of Captain Maxwell, attempted to establish in court the marriage of her mother Sallie Presley with Dr. Kennedy, whilst he resided in Greenville District, and before his marriage to a Span ish lady in the City of Mobile, whilst the City belonged to the crown of Spain. A forged certi ficate of the Rev. Mr. Tarrant, a Baptist clergyman, was produced, certifying that the marriage cere mony was performed by him in his ministerial capacity on Grove

Creek, Greenville, South Car. line.

There was a good deal of perjury and subornation of perjury in the case. The marriage was alleged to have taken place in 1793, I think.

The plaintiff made such a strong showing that the children of Dr.

Kennedy found it necessary to prove by all those who were living and had known Dr. Kennedy, that such a marriage was never heard of by them, and that it was alto gether improbable and absurd from the different social positions of the parties. In this way I learn ed all about the circumstances and suspicions of the murder as well as of the pretended marriage. In the hands of a writer of fiction, a most thrilling story could be made out of the facts and circumstances, as testified to me under oath, by many of the most respectable citizens in the upper country.

Captain Maxwell and Dr. Ken ney were both gentlemen of high social position, neighbors, and in imate friends for several years.

They were men of education, tal ents and property, and had the confidence, esteem and affection of all who knew them. They had a difference about a small bill which Dr. Kennedy had rendered against the Captain. They were both gentlemen of high temper, and strong impulse, and a bitter feud grew up between them from this trifling circumstance. Cap tain Maxwell had been travelling in Virginia and stopped at a house where there were others staying all night. In the morning he made an early start, and through a mis take took down a watch which he supposed to be his own, but which was of less value than his. The other traveler discovered the mis take, and sent a messenger after him with his watch and made the exchange. Some one from Vir ginia who had heard of the cir cumstance told the story to the half brother of Dr. Kennedy, greatly to his prejudice of Captain Max well. The Dr. repeated the story as he had heard it from his half brother, and it was told again by others. The Captain immediately
